Raiders Struggle To Win Over Colonels

Penalties were a big factor in the narrow margin of victory as Appomattox barely defeated Altavista 7-0 Monday night in Seminole District football. The twice postponed contest was finally played with both teams having trouble generating any consistant offensive attack.

After a clipping violation nullified a Raider touchdown in the first period, William "BooBoo" Trent took a handoff from Joe Fraley and scampered 26 yards for the only touchdown of the game in the second period. Tommy Bryant kicked the PAT and Appomattox led 7-0 at the half.

Trent was the leading ball carrier as he rushed for 133 yards more than 100 coming in the first half. His total would have been over 200 except for penalties which brought back several long runs and a touchdown.

The second half was strictly a defensive test and most of the action took place between the 25 yard lines. Both punters got a good work out as the offensive units found little running room and failed to make first down yardage.

C. J. Carter, Phil Jamerson, Murray Mozingo and Tony Snell were defensive standouts for Appomattox.

A Voice For The Past

The Appomattox County Historical Society recently received 1914 news articles and other documents that will be of interest to county residents.

The donor of the articles, Mrs. Harry Rucker of Monroe, is the former Helen Nowlin. She was the daughter of the late Annie Thornhill and A. Sidney Nowlin of Lynchburg. Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin were descendents of Appomattox County residents from the Oakville and Tower Hill areas of the county.

It was from the steps of the John H. Nowlin home, later known as the Owen home, Oakville, that Congressman Hal Flood made his first political speech. Reportedly asked, "Didn't your father advocate C-session" he answered "Yes! and shouldered his musket and went to war."

One of the articles is reprinted below: DAY SET FOR FLOOD - PORTNER MARRIAGE. Washington Society Girl to Wed Congressman here on the Eighteenth of April. "All rumors concerning the engagement of Miss Anna Portner and Congressman Henry D. Flood of Virginia were set at rest this morning when several hundred Washingtonians found in their morning mail a card reading:

"Mr. Alvin O. Portner requests the honor of the presence of ____ at the marriage of his sister, Anna Valer, to Mr. Henry Hallaward Flood, on Saturday, April 18 at 5 o'clock, All Souls Church, Washington, D. C.

"Reception immediately after the ceremony at the Highlands.'

"The engagement of Miss Portner and Congressman Flood was announced last spring and several dates for the wedding have been set by rumor, but when the time came, there was no wedding. Rumor then declared that the engagement was broken.

In the meantime Miss Portner spent the summer abroad and since her return in the fall has spent much time between Washington and New York. During her travels she has gathered one of the most elaborate trousseaux that has been seen in Washington for several seasons. Miss Portner is the daughter of the late Robert Portner and Mrs. Portner of Manassas, Va. She made her debut several seasons ago, but during the last few years had not taken an active part in society on account of mourning for her mother. She is one of five girls, all of whom are famed for their brunette beauty. This season Miss Portner and her youngest sister, Miss Hildegarde Portner, have made their home at the Highlands.

It has been known among the most intimate friends of Miss Portner for a fortnight that the wedding was to take place on the 18th, but they were pledged to secrecy. The bridal party has not been entirely selected, Mrs. Lorimer Graham and Miss Hildegarde Portner will attend their sister and Miss Edith Gracie, Miss Portner's most intimate chum, will also be among the bridesmaids.

Congressman Flood is chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House and is one of the most popular bachelors of Washington society.

Contents From The ACHS Student Handbook

At the request of Mr. Don Armentrout, Principal at Appomattox County High School, we have been printing the contents of the ACHS Student Handbook as space permits.

Following is more information from the handbook that should be of interest to parents and citizens of this county:

School Attendance

School attendance is primarily the responsibility of the student and his/her parents or guardian. It is most important that the home and school cooperate and communicate to the fullest extent to insure proper attendance. We strongly encourage parents to telephone the school concerning the reason for their son's/daughter's absence. Call will be appreciated any time during the school day (8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.) but would be most helpful before noon.

An attempt will be made to contact the parent or guardian of each absent student by telephone every day.

The following are usually acceptable (excused) reasons for missing school: 1. Personal illness, 2. Serious illness or death in the immediate family, 3. Medical or dental attention, 4. Approved pre-arranged trips.

The following are some examples of reasons that are not acceptable (unexcused) for missing school: 1. Truancy, 2. Missing the school bus, 3. Shopping, 4. Hunting and fishing, 5. Birthday, 6. Gainful employment, 7. Habitual car problems.

The administration reserves the right to make the final decision regarding whether a reason or situation is acceptable (excused) or not acceptable (unexcused) for missing school.

Returning to School After An Absence

1. Bring a written note from parent or guardian containing: your full name, date(s) of absence, reason for absence, and parental signature. This should be done even if your parent or guardian has called the school.

2. If you forget to bring a note from home, you will be issued an unexcused admit slip for that day. If you bring in a note from parent or guardian on the second day, it is possible for the previous day's unexcused slip to become an "excused" admit slip.

3. Take the note to the "attendance officers" located in the cafeteria area between 8:15 and 8:45. Here an excused or unexcused admit slip will be issued to you.

4. Carry the admit slip to each class missed and your teacher will sign the slip. All the slips are turned in by the last period teacher.

5. If you are absent for more than three days without contacting the school, the school will get in touch with you.

Make Up Work

We know you are not going to be absent from school, but in case you are there will be work waiting for you to do at school. You will be given ample time to make up the work you missed. This work must be turned in by the end of the grading period in order to receive credit on it. A grade lowering situation will result if the work is not made up in time. So let's get those pens and pencils moving! It is your responsibility to see the teacher for making up work missed.

Class Attendance

You are asked to be in class "on time" and stay in class unless the teacher has given you written permission to leave the class during the period. Students should be in the classroom and ready to begin work when the bell has stopped ringing.

Plan ahead for the materials you need for your classes. Teachers will not be allowing you to leave class for books, paper, pencils, etc.

Tardy To Class

You are tardy to class if you are not in the classroom when the bell has stopped ringing. In cases where a student is tardy, the teacher will admit you to class, talk with you about the behavior and possibly make an office referral of the situation.

If you are tardy to class because of having been detained by a faculty member, you must present a written note from that faculty member to the teacher whose class you are entering. If you do not have the note do not return for it during that class period.

Jim Roach, Manager of Kings Market in Triangle Plaza Shopping Center, poses with the cash register his company donated to the Distributive Education Dept. at Appomattox County High School.

King's Donates Cash Register

King's Markets, Inc. has donated a two drawer cash register to the Distributive Education Dept. at Appomattox County High School.

Jim Roach, Manager of the local supermarket, made the presentation last week. He was also instrumental in obtaining the register for the DE program.

Jack Hutcheson, DE teacher-coordinator, said the cash register is an important addition to the DE classroom. Students can now apply what they are studying in a practical "hands-on" type of simulation activity. By using the register in class, students become more prepared for entering the job market in a distributive occupation.

The Administraiton and DE Department at ACHS wish to express their thanks to KING'S for their valuable donation. Community action such as this makes the education process more realistic, helps strengthen the school curriculum, and prepares our students for the world of work.
